

COBUS Workplan

Efficient programming

The user defines the tool selection and running order independent of the individual constructions:

Run the same CNC program on all of your machines - all-automatic - no extra effort

Save time, minimize errors

Workplan allows your company to automate and manage the most important activities based on the component analysis and the data specified in COBUS NCAD. Once set, the data is valid for the whole plant. Workplan then automates and splits processing, if efficient. Customize Workplan to your individual requirements and benefit from the user-friendly dialog that already validates your data prior to manufacturing.

Workplan significantly facilitates work. In case you extend your machinery, new data can be applied easily. CNC programs get more short and clear as they do not contain additional information about the manufacturing conditions anymore.

Moreover, Workplan allows for a transparent storage of know-how. No need to rely on your employees' anymore – knowledge it is stored on your computer. Once provided, the software works independently.

Programming gets easier, more transparent and thereby, shortens the training period.
